

UNITED SOLOISTS

DISCOVERING NEW TALENTS

The United Soloists Orchestra is a symphony orchestra consisting of the most active concert soloists from all over the world. Was founded by the members who are current soloists of world renowned orchestras such as Tonhalle-Orchester Zürich, Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra, Mariinsky Theater, Orchestra Teatro alla Scala, Bamberger Symphoniker and others. They perform with such artists as Paavo Jarvi, Valery Gergiev, Daniele Gatti, Riccardo Chailly and others. The orchestra promotes different cultures and traditions from all over the world through the varied music programs and artists from all backgrounds including soloists, bands and dancers. The music repertoire features many genres: from classical symphonies to jazz, traditional folk and contemporary music of living composers. United Soloists Orchestra also has an aim to help young gifted artists and promote them on international level as soloists. In fact, on every concert the orchestra presents to the public a new unknown soloist. The music director Arseniy Shkaptsov says "It's a new platform for discovering and promoting young talents from the art industry"
